Technical part

Users holding a minimum of 30 USD in $SHORT tokens can access the Shortswap DApp. Upon selecting a desired token for short selling, the platform seamlessly initiates a request to the server.

A specially designed bot processes the request and executes the sale of the token from the available liquidity at the specified time (t). Additionally, leveraging existing code from the Cryptotem project, (T) this bot is also equipped to perform automatic buybacks, enhancing operational efficiency and effectiveness.

Calculation of the profit

$$Profit = [(p_i \times (1 - bT) \times (1 - sF)) - (p_f \times (1 + sT) \times (1 + sF))] \times \frac{c}{p_i \times (1 - bT) \times (1 - sF)}$$

Calculation of the liquidation price

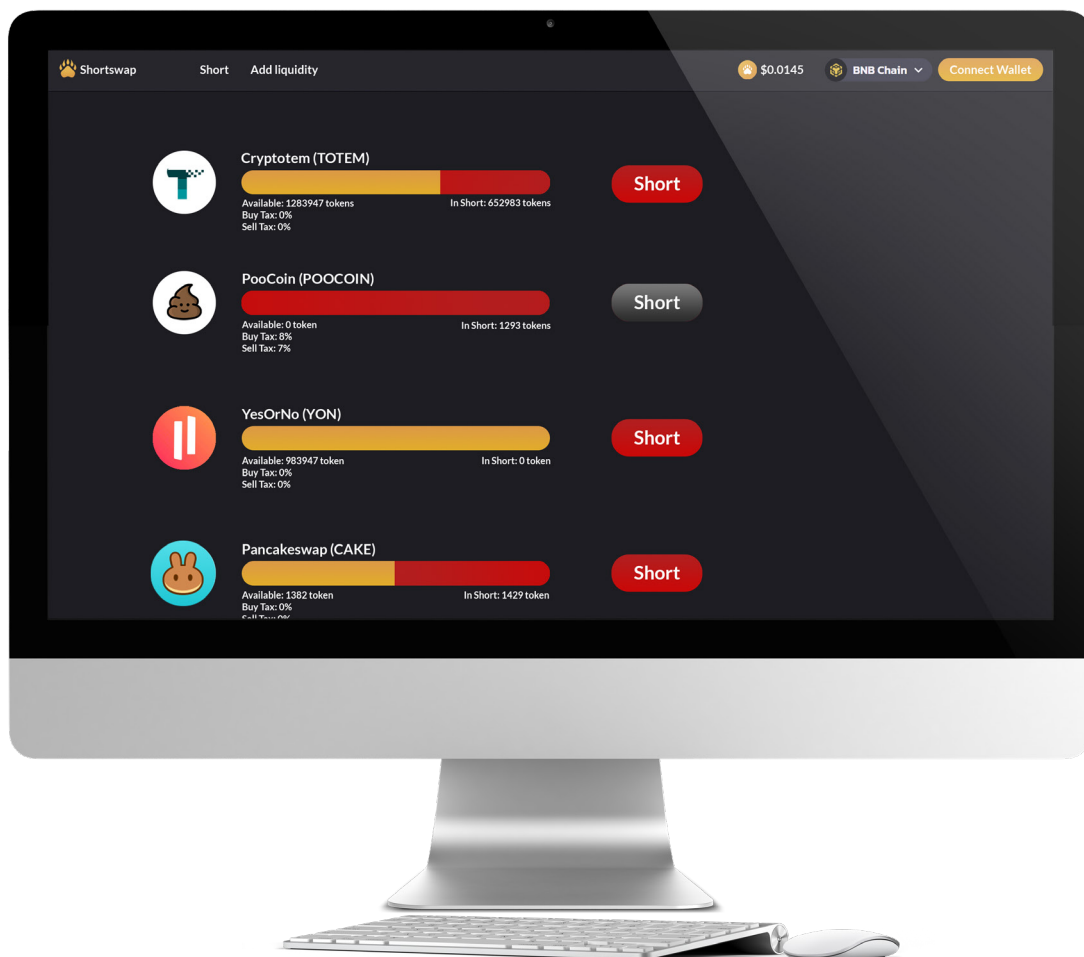

$$pL = \frac{L \times p_i \times (1 - bT) + p_i}{(sT + 1)}$$

- p_i (→) Initial Price: The price at which the short position is opened.
- c (→) Collateral: The amount of money put up as collateral.
- bT (→) Buy Tax Rate: The tax rate when entering the position.
- sT (→) Sell Tax Rate: The tax rate when exiting the position.
- L (→) Liquidation Factor: This is the factor that determines at what point the value of the collateral is insufficient to cover the position, leading to liquidation.
Shortswap liquidation factor = 0,97
- pL (→) Liquidation price.
- p_f (→) Final price.
- sF (→) Shortswap fees = 0.03

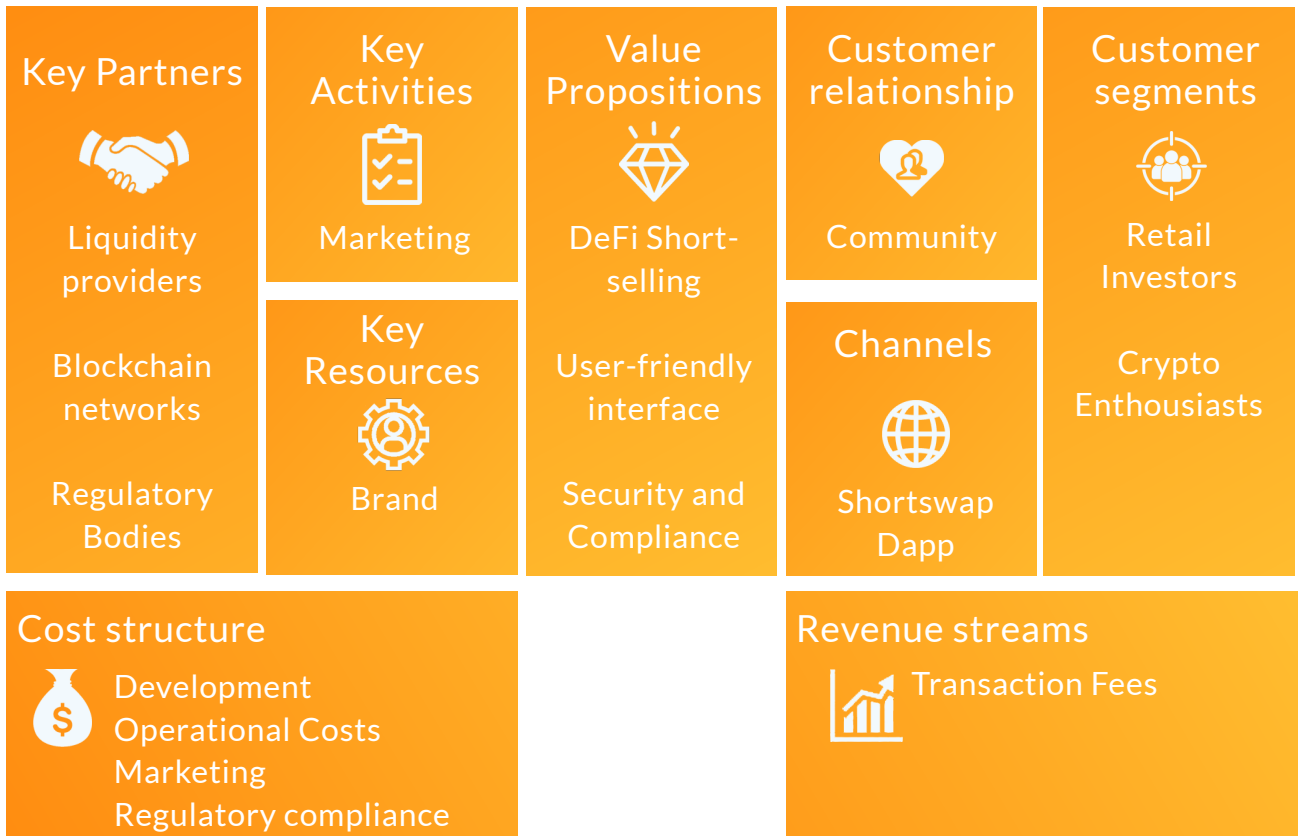

Liquidity/DAO

Initially, the funding for the liquidity pools will be sourced from the taxes accrued by the Short token transactions. Concurrently, we aim to organize AMA for project holders, enhancing their market exposure. In exchange for this increased visibility, they will contribute their tokens towards the establishment of new liquidity pools. This strategic approach not only diversifies our funding sources but also fosters collaborative growth within the ecosystem.

As part of our progressive roadmap, we intend to evolve the DAPP into a fully autonomous platform. This development will empower holders of various tokens to establish their own liquidity pools. In alignment with this initiative, these contributors will be rewarded with dividends, derived from transaction taxes, whenever their tokens are employed in short-selling activities. This strategic advancement is aimed at enhancing user engagement and fostering a self-sustaining ecosystem.

Business model

1% BUYBACK AND BURN

One percent of every short transaction is allocated towards a buyback and burn mechanism for the $SHORT token. This burn process is initiated when the pool reaches a threshold of 100 USD.

$$\text{Price} = \frac{\text{Liquidity in native token}}{\text{Liquidity in $SHORT}}$$
